Press Release

June 14, 2012

On Thursday, June 14, 2012, at about 0202 hrs, the Barnstable Police responded to the intersection of Route 28 Falmouth Road and Pitchers Way in Hyannis for a hit and run motor vehicle accident involving a bicyclist. The bicyclist had been struck and suffered life threatening injuries, and was in the roadway when Officers Armando Feliciano and Megan Cunningham arrived a short time later and started providing medical attention to her. Officer Justin Waskeiwicz arrived and shut down all traffic through the intersection while the victim was being attended to and the accident was being investigated.

Hyannis Fire Department responded and transported the victim to the Cape Cod Hospital Emergency Center, but her injuries were such that she was declared deceased a short time later. Officer Brian Murray of the Barnstable Police Department Accident Reconstruction Team responded to assist with the investigation. Route 28 was opened back up at about 0345 hours.

The Barnstable Police investigation identified the suspect vehicle and the information was relayed to surrounding police departments. At around 0330 hrs, Falmouth Police Sergeant Brian Kinsella located the suspect vehicle on Main Street, Falmouth and spoke with the operator, who identified herself as 23 year old Angelica Barroso, of 92 Reid Ave, West Yarmouth. Barroso told Sergeant Kinsella she had struck something in Hyannis, and had driven to Falmouth.

Officer Waskeiwicz and Sergeant Michael Riley responded the Falmouth Police station and placed Barroso under arrest for Leaving the Scene of a Fatal Injury (Death) Accident, and transported her to the Barnstable Police Station. She will be arraigned at the Barnstable District Court this morning.

The accident remains under investigation by the Barnstable Police.
